

As you adjust your tactical decisions, make sure they support your overall strategic plan in finance. You may want to borrow money from the bank or repay your loan from a previous quarter.

You may also wish to review your stock transactions in case you had an emergency loan in the previous quarter.