

YOUR TASK

If you have fewer than 100 units of a brand that you intend to discontinue, it could be wise to sell them as scrap. If you have several hundred units, you may wish to sell them in a slow region.

If you choose to sell any of your brands as unwanted inventory, note that it will take one quarter to actually remove the inventory from the warehouse and add the cash to your checking account.